Dear Doctor Butler,

Could you kindly look up your records & let me know if you have any thing about a person Paul Linger who married 1808 Ann Demarest given as living in Richmond. If he was a Loyalist or son of a Loyalist and drew 200 acres of land as such. Did his wife Ann Demarest draw any land as Loyalist herself or if he whom.

James Demarest who married Ann Bowen had James, Catherine & Wm James & Catherine each 200 acres each. If he died he was killed early in war 1812

If Ann was 1/2 sister of the 3 above mentioned, surely she as such would have applied also for 200 acres.

Thanks, how are you both.
Come up soon. Love some

J. S. Demarest

Dear Dr. Burleigh

Thanks very much for the information you sent me re Phillip Luges.

In going through my papers I found a letter dated 1884 in which is mentioned Luges.

Sgt James Demorest must have died (no record) and his widow Anna married Phillip Luges Aug 22. 1808.

You can put this in your notes on Sgt. Jas Demorest and also for Phillip Luges' data.

Received our U.F. receipt.
Thanks very much for all your kindness.

Yours sincerely,

J.S.D.

P.S. The index states that a widow of Sullivan's. Notho married a Luges and Anna is only one & put in

P.S. Believe we have a lead on David Demaree U. E. L.

In York 1909 a David
Demaree was found on a
Mint, there, and of course
he is the only one that we know of that could fit that picture of we believe we have his descendants of other.

PUBLIC ARCHIVES
OF CANADA

Ottawa 2, Ontario,
June 3, 1958.

Dr. J. Sheldon Demorest,
Physician and Surgeon,
Foxboro, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

Your further enquiry of the 27th May last, concerning your Demorest ancestry, has been received.

After a careful examination of our collections of Upper Canada land petitions and grants and marriage bonds, we are happy to report that the original application for land presented by Margaret Prindle, dated Adolphustown, 29th January, 1824, states clearly that she was the daughter of John Diamond, U.E.L. of the township of Fredericksburgh, Midland District, and the wife of Abraham Prindle. The application was read in Council and approved on the 7th May, 1828; an order for a grant of 200 acres was issued the same day.

I regret to say that we were unable to ascertain how many children there were in James Demorest's family.

Yours sincerely,

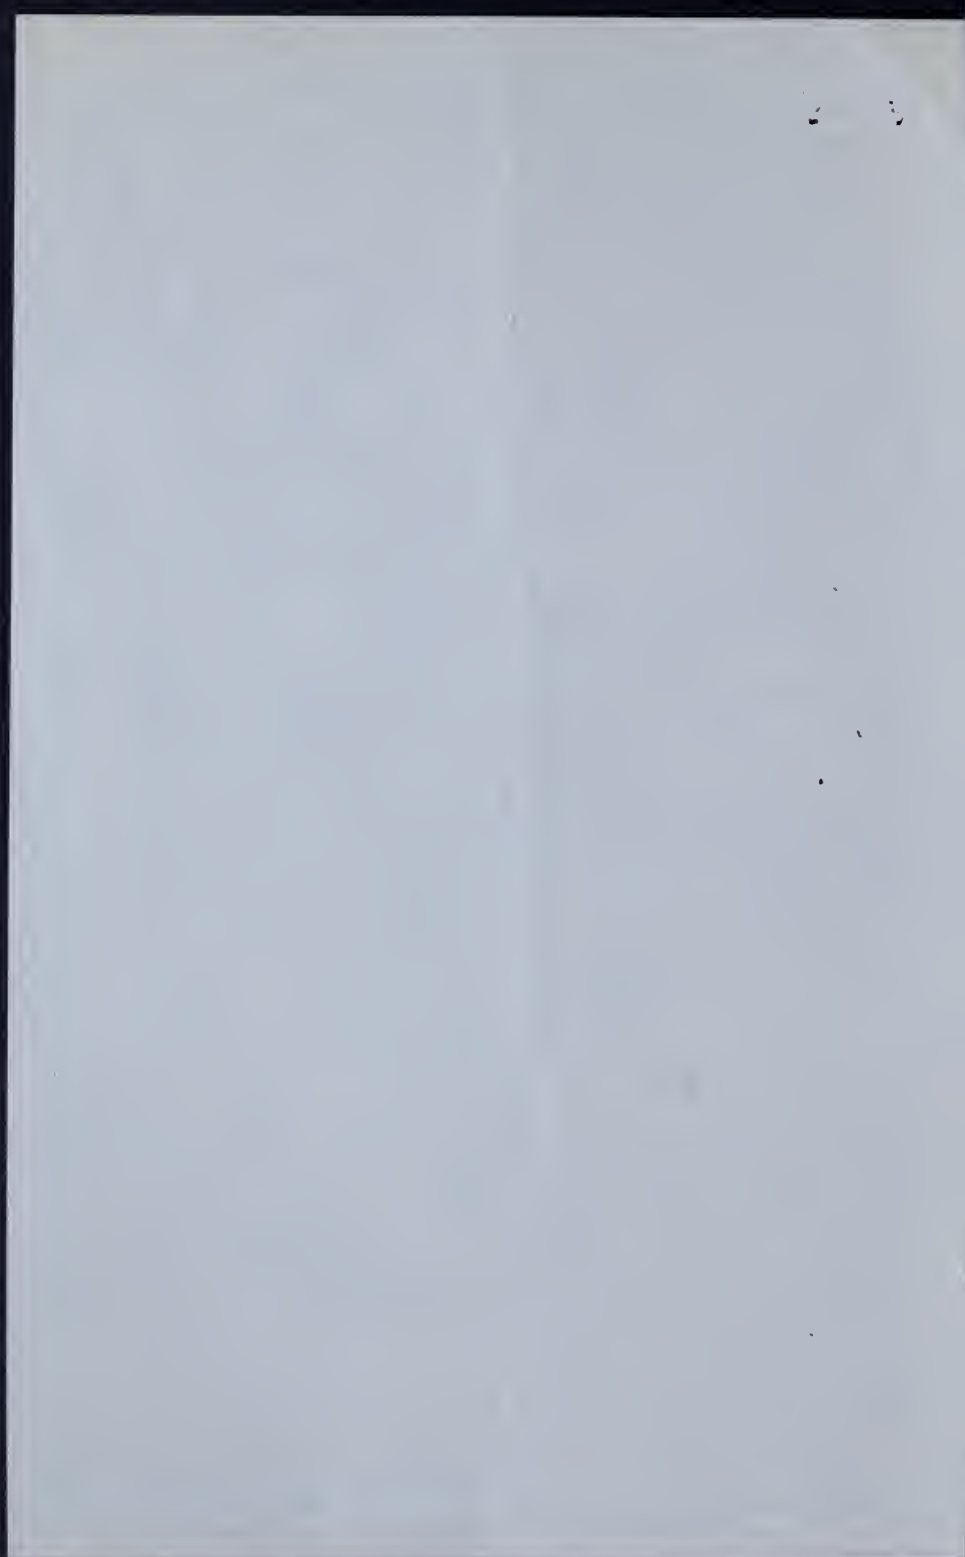

Pierre Brunet.

Acting Dominion Archivist.

Friends Honor Dr. Demorest At Foxboro

Jan. 7/55

A 77-year-old family doctor was recently honored by members of his community with a gift in appreciation of his many years of faithful service.

Friends and neighbors of Dr. J. S. Demorest of Foxboro, feeling they would like to express their appreciation in a tangible way, took up a collection to buy him a beautiful leather chair.

The chair was delivered Christmas Eve, along with a card signed by approximately 113 people who contributed to this Community gift.

Dr. Demorest has been a general practitioner in Foxboro for the past 15 years. He is on call 24-hours-a-day and is always ready and willing to minister to those who need his aid.

A native of Foxboro, Dr. Demorest attended public school there and high school in Belleville. He received his M.D. degree from the University of Manitoba, and began his first practice in Alberta, where he became successful and much sought after as a consultant.

After some years, he developed a yearning to practise in his home town, and when the opportunity arose, he returned to continue his medical career. Here he developed a widespread practice, which includes not only the village of Foxboro, but the surrounding community as well.

Dr. Demorest is married and has one daughter living in Toronto.

January 7th., 1908

In the municipal elections yesterday ex.-Ald. Allan McFee defeated ex.-Ald. Lorne Marsh by a majority of 29 votes. The aldermen elected are in order of standing at the polls: W. B. Deacon, A. Thompson, Panter, Thomas, Vermilyea, Ackerman Hagerman, Green, Paterson and Blackburn. After speeches had been made at the city hall, mayor-elect McFee was escorted to his home on Ann Street by the Odd Fellows Band and many supporters. (Note 1958) Escorting the mayor-elect home was often done years ago. Generally there was good sleighing at the time and the new mayor was taken home seated in a sleigh and escorted by a torch light procession led by the band. Sometimes the horses were taken from the sleigh and the enthusiastic supporters would fasten a long rope to the sleigh and do the pulling. When the house was reached the mayor would stand upon his doorstep and make a short speech and there was much cheering. Times have really changed).

Dr. Bowlby, reeve of Tweed, was in town today.

Mr. and Mrs. Morden Bird of Stirling have left for Vancouver, B.C., where they will spend three months.

Mr. R. W. Adams is in Ottawa to attend a meeting of the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company representatives.

THE DEMOREST FAMILY.

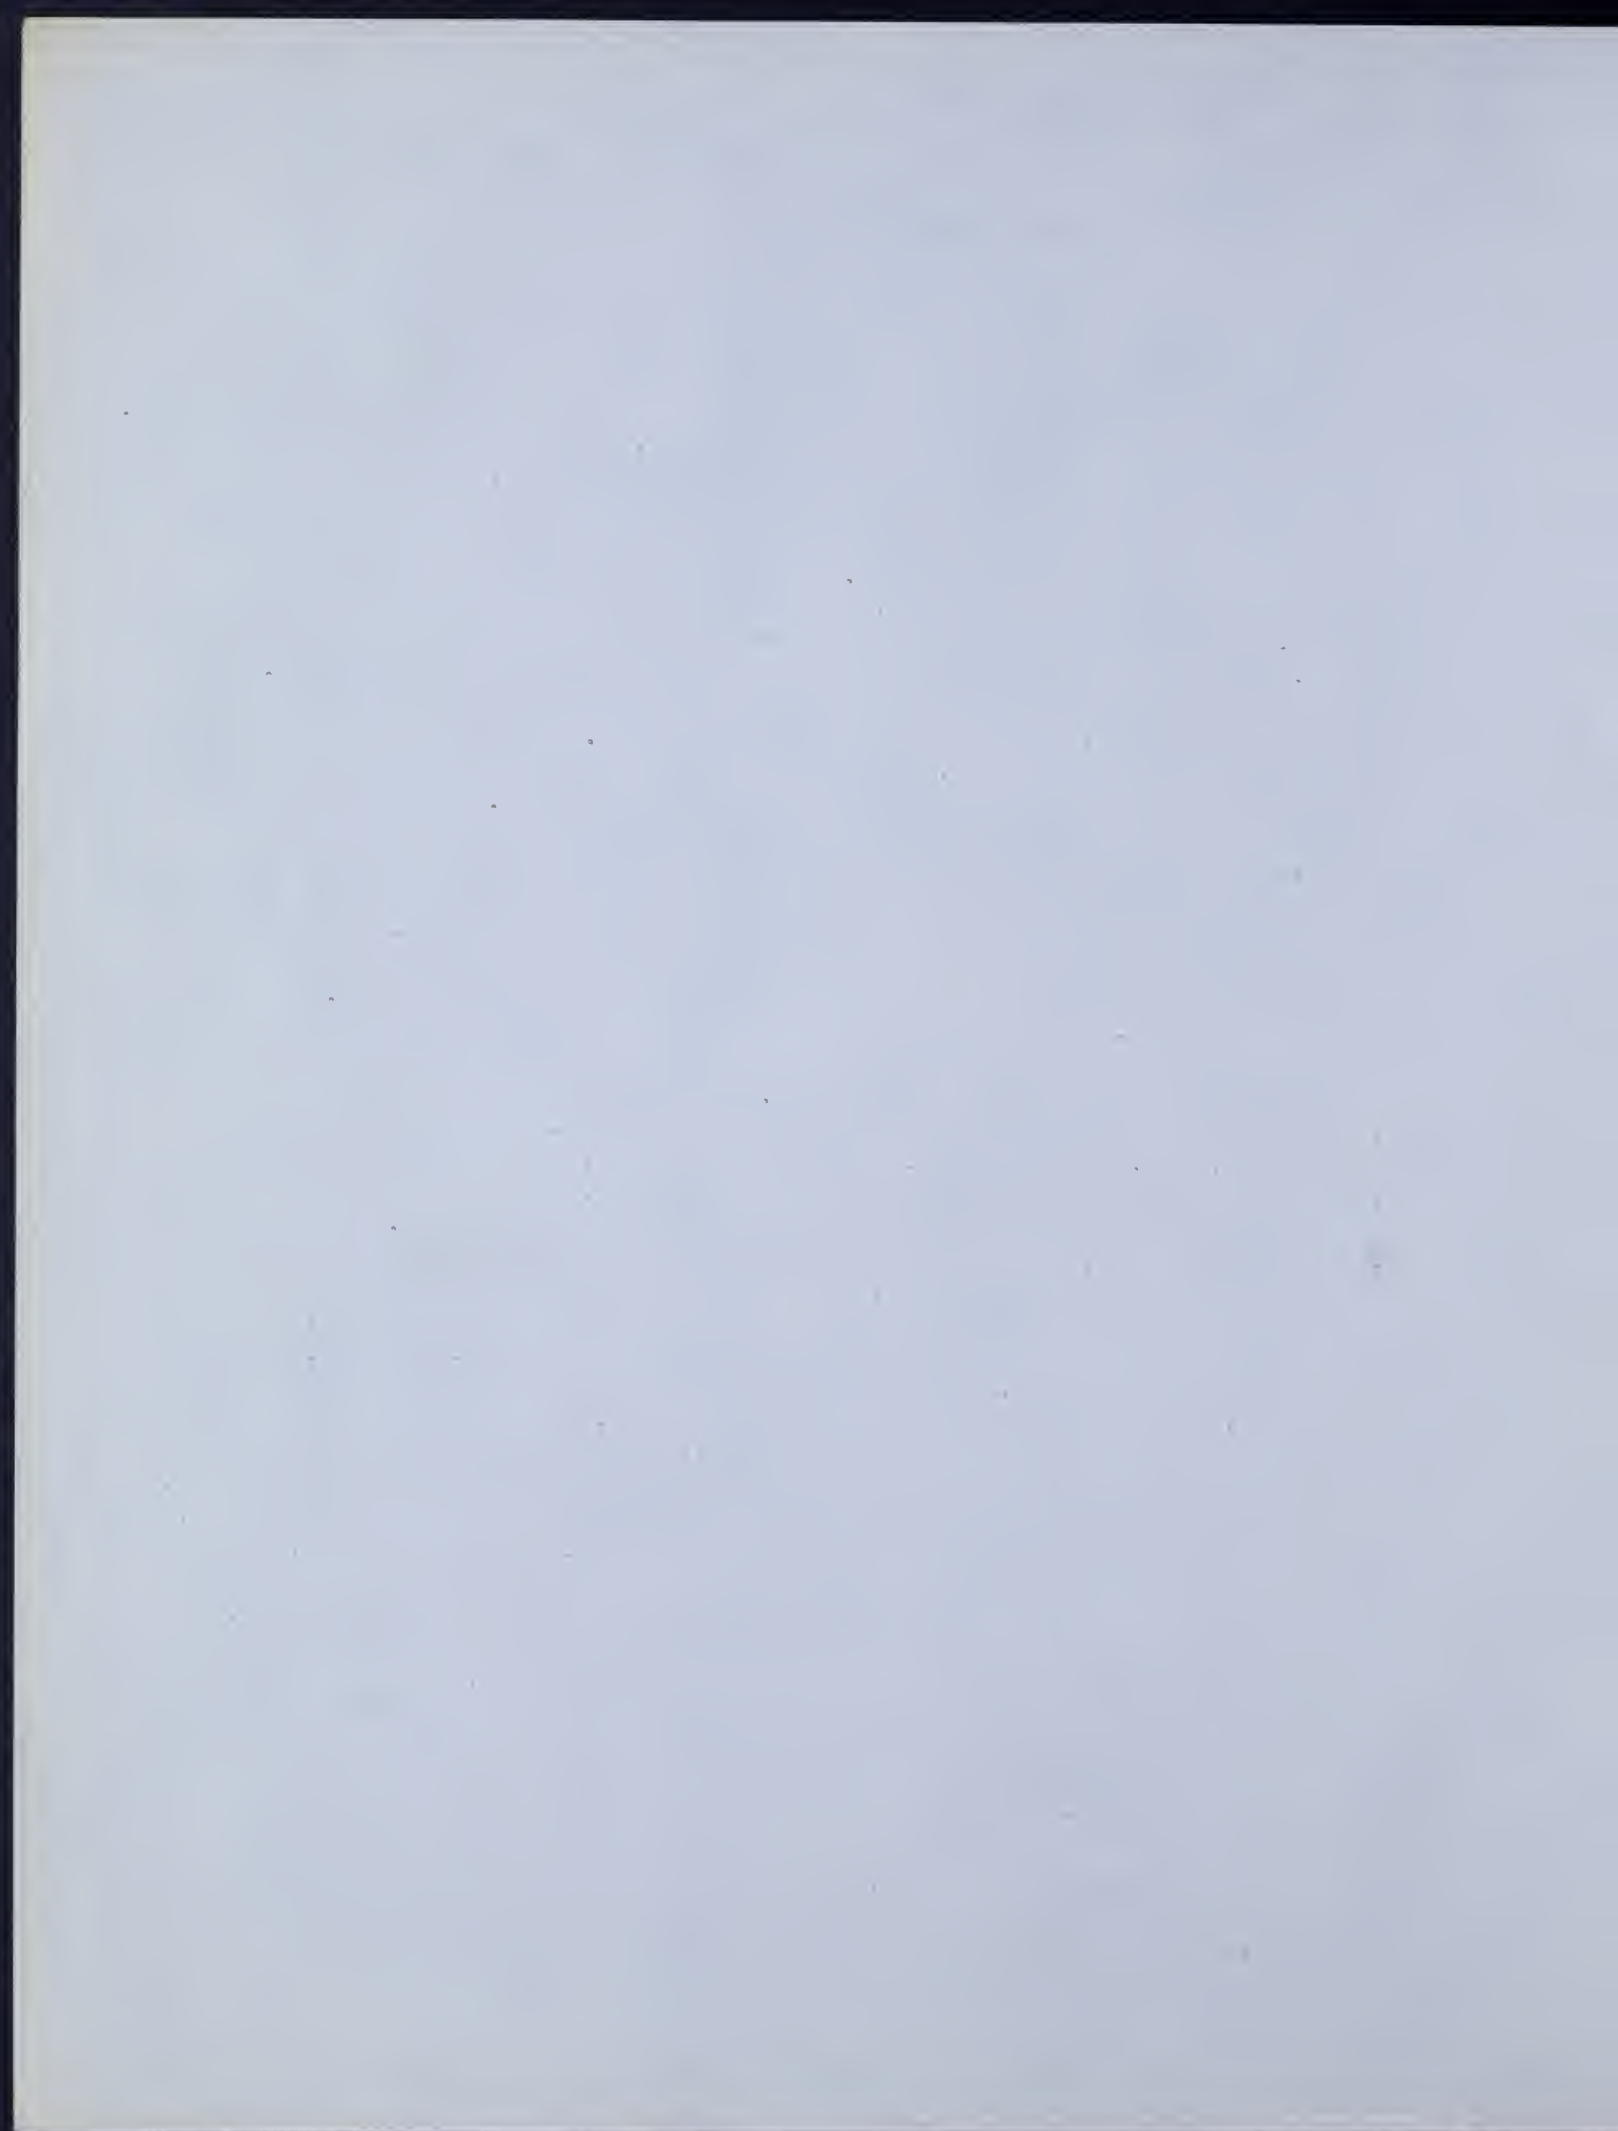

David Des Marest of the French Patent on the Hackensack and his Descendants.

Mary A. Demarest and William H. S. Demarest.

1. David, son of Jean Des Marest and (?) Marguerite de Nerville, married Marie Sohier July ~~28~~ 24, 1643, at the French church, Middleburg, on the Island of Walcheren, Zeeland. She was the daughter of Francois Sohier from Nieppe, a town in Hainault. They lived at Middleburg from the time of their marriage until 1651. They then removed to Mannheim in the Palatinate. In 1663 they migrated to America. Locating on Staten Island, they remained there two years. There David Des Marest was appointed at once (1664), a magistrate, also delegate with Pierre Billiou to conference concerning protection from the Indians; also delegate to the Provincial Assembly of New Netherland. In 1664 he removed to New Harlem where he remained twelve and a half years. There he was chosen overseer, constable, schepen. In 1677 the family removed again, to the French Patent on the Hackensack. Marie Sohier des Marest died, it is thought, just at this time. Some account of the life in each place is given in the narrative and in the appendix of this compilation. David Des Marest died in 1693. His will was made August 26, 1689, probated July 30, 1697. An earlier will had been made jointly by him and his wife when they were in New Harlem, February 1, 1672. The witnesses to the probated will were Paull Richard, Giles Gaudineau, Peter Legrand, Peter de Lattoy. He left to his maid Anna Cunk, housekeeper no doubt after the death of his wife, one hundred acres of land. His whole estate with this exception he left to his three sons, Jean, David and Samuel, equal heirs. The three sons were to be executors; but the son David had died; so "Jean Durie our cousin" represented the children of David Jr., he later marrying the widow. See narrative and appendix.

Children:

8. Daniel, b. at New Harlem, bap. July 7, 1666, recorded in the Doep Boeck of the Dutch Church of New York, d. accident Jan. 8, 1672.
4. David married Rachel Cresson, daughter of Pierre Cresson Apr. 4, 1675. She was born at Delft about 1656. The marriage notice March 7, the banns apparently, reads: Apr. 4, 1675, David DeMareez de jonge j. m. Van Mannheim, Rachel Cresson, j. d. Van Delf bijde wonende op. N. Haerlem." He was received by the New York church May 30, 1672; she was received Dec. 7, 1673. He died before or in Aug., 1691; a legal paper of that date speaks of the heirs of David Des Marest jr. Tradition says that he was killed by a falling tree. He left no will. After his death his widow joined the Hackensack church from the French church of Kinderkamack which she and her husband had joined from the Bergen church. David having left no will, Jan Durie, cousin, was appointed to look after the interests of the children, and he later married the widow. At Jan Durie's death, his will dated June 10, 1698, administration was granted his wife Rachel. He had married before and his surviving children, minors, were all by his first wife. Samuel Demarest was appointed their guardian and Jan Des Marest was a witness. Rachel Cresson married a third time: Roeloff Vander Linde April 25, 1702, at Hackensack; and she survived him. David's name appears often in the Harlem Records. He subscribed toward the salary of the parish clerk and school master, the voorleser; and later he refused to make such subscription. He was in the watch organized against the Indians and he is spoken of as a "former fence master." With his father David Sr. he contracted March 12, 1677, to sell their property in Harlem to Paulus Richards. They reserved the right to occupy their dwellings until May 1, 1678, his father making his settlement three days later, and soon after left for the Hackensack. He was received into the Bergen church Oct. 7, 1677, with all others of the family save his father who kept his membership in the New York church.

Excerpt from the will of the parents of Rachel Cresson 1673: Pierre Cresson and Rachel Closs his wife both being sound of body do give &c., and whereas their daughter Susannah enjoyed as a marriage portion the value of 200 guilders, so the testators will that at the decease of the longest liver each of the other children then living shall draw the like 200 guilders and our youngest son Elie, if he is under the age of 16 years, also a new suit of clothes becoming his person from head to foot.

20. David married Sara, eldest daughter of Rev. Guiliam Bertholf and Martyntie Hendriekse Vermeulen, April 24, 1697, at Hackensack. She was bap. at Sluis, Walcheren, April 8, 1677, where her parents were married April 15, 1676. He joined the Hackensack church by letter from the French church and letter from the New York church July 10, 1696. They lived east of the Hackensack. Both are buried in the old French burying ground. The inscriptions on the stone are D. D. M. R. 1759, aged 83 yrs. 8 mos.; S. D. M. R. 1758, aged 81 yrs. 4 mos. The will of David is dated Nov. 8, 1758, probated Mar. 4, 1760; it is filed at Trenton. In it he speaks of his eldest son David as guardian of William's son David, and to him he gives a seat place in the church. He speaks also of David and Jacobus, sons of Jacobus. These sons of David Demarest, William and Jacobus, had died earlier. He also leaves bequests to his daughters Rachel, Mary, Elizabeth, Sara, Anna, Martintie, or their children. Sara, the daughter of Elizabeth, was given her grandmother's seat in the church. The general property was divided into nine equal shares. The witnesses to the will were Johannes Demarest and Peter Demarest. David Demarest was a man of position and influence, of public office. High Sheriff of Bergen Co. 1714, Justice of the Peace 1721, 1722, 1738, 1744, Judge of Court of Pleas and Quorums 1738-49, Member of 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th Provincial Assemblies of New Jersey, 1738-46, one of the two representatives of Bergen Co. Member of the Board of Freeholders of the County. He was a large land owner in Bergen Co. and Essex Co.

Extracts from Muhlenberg's Diary: On July 22, 1751, he called on an "old reformed man who for many years had been a member of the Assembly of the Province and who honestly desired to be an Israelite without guile. He welcomed me with tears," &c. "On the 37th May (1752), I visited the oldest gentleman of the Government, Mr. Du M. (David Demarest, du Maree). He declared that by my four sermons he had been roused anew and the power of the Divine Word inwardly strengthened. It was, it is true, complained of by some of his co-religionists (Dutch Reformed) that he went to our church (Lutheran) and at the same time continued his mite towards the salary, but he could not help it and must have nourishment for his soul. He showed me a French Martyrs Chronicle which together with the Bible he read for his daily edification" &c. "On the 20th of July, 1752, I took leave of a family of French descent who were inclined to unite themselves with our congregation, and of the old gentleman of the Government, Mr. D. du M (David Demarest)" &c. "Monday the 27th (Aug. 27, 1759), I was invited to visit an old Reformed Man because he was sick and desired once again to see me. His ancestors fled hither from France. He himself is a sensible and well read man of five and eighty years, has as Assemblyman been useful to the Commonwealth and seems in religious matters to be liberal and an especial lover for the Divine Word. (Long recital of religious conversation). We took a sorrowful leave of each other until which God grant we joyfully meet again in a better life.

- 23. Rachel married Andries Jans Van Orden, son of Jan Peterse Van Orden and Elizabeth Rees Vander Lipstradt, Aug. 31, 1700, at Hackensack. He was born about 1678 at New York. She united with the Hackensack church on confession on the same day as her sister Susanna. She died not later than 1710, as her husband married as his second wife Antie Laroe Aug. 12, 1710. The will of Andries Van Orden is filed at Trenton.

Children:

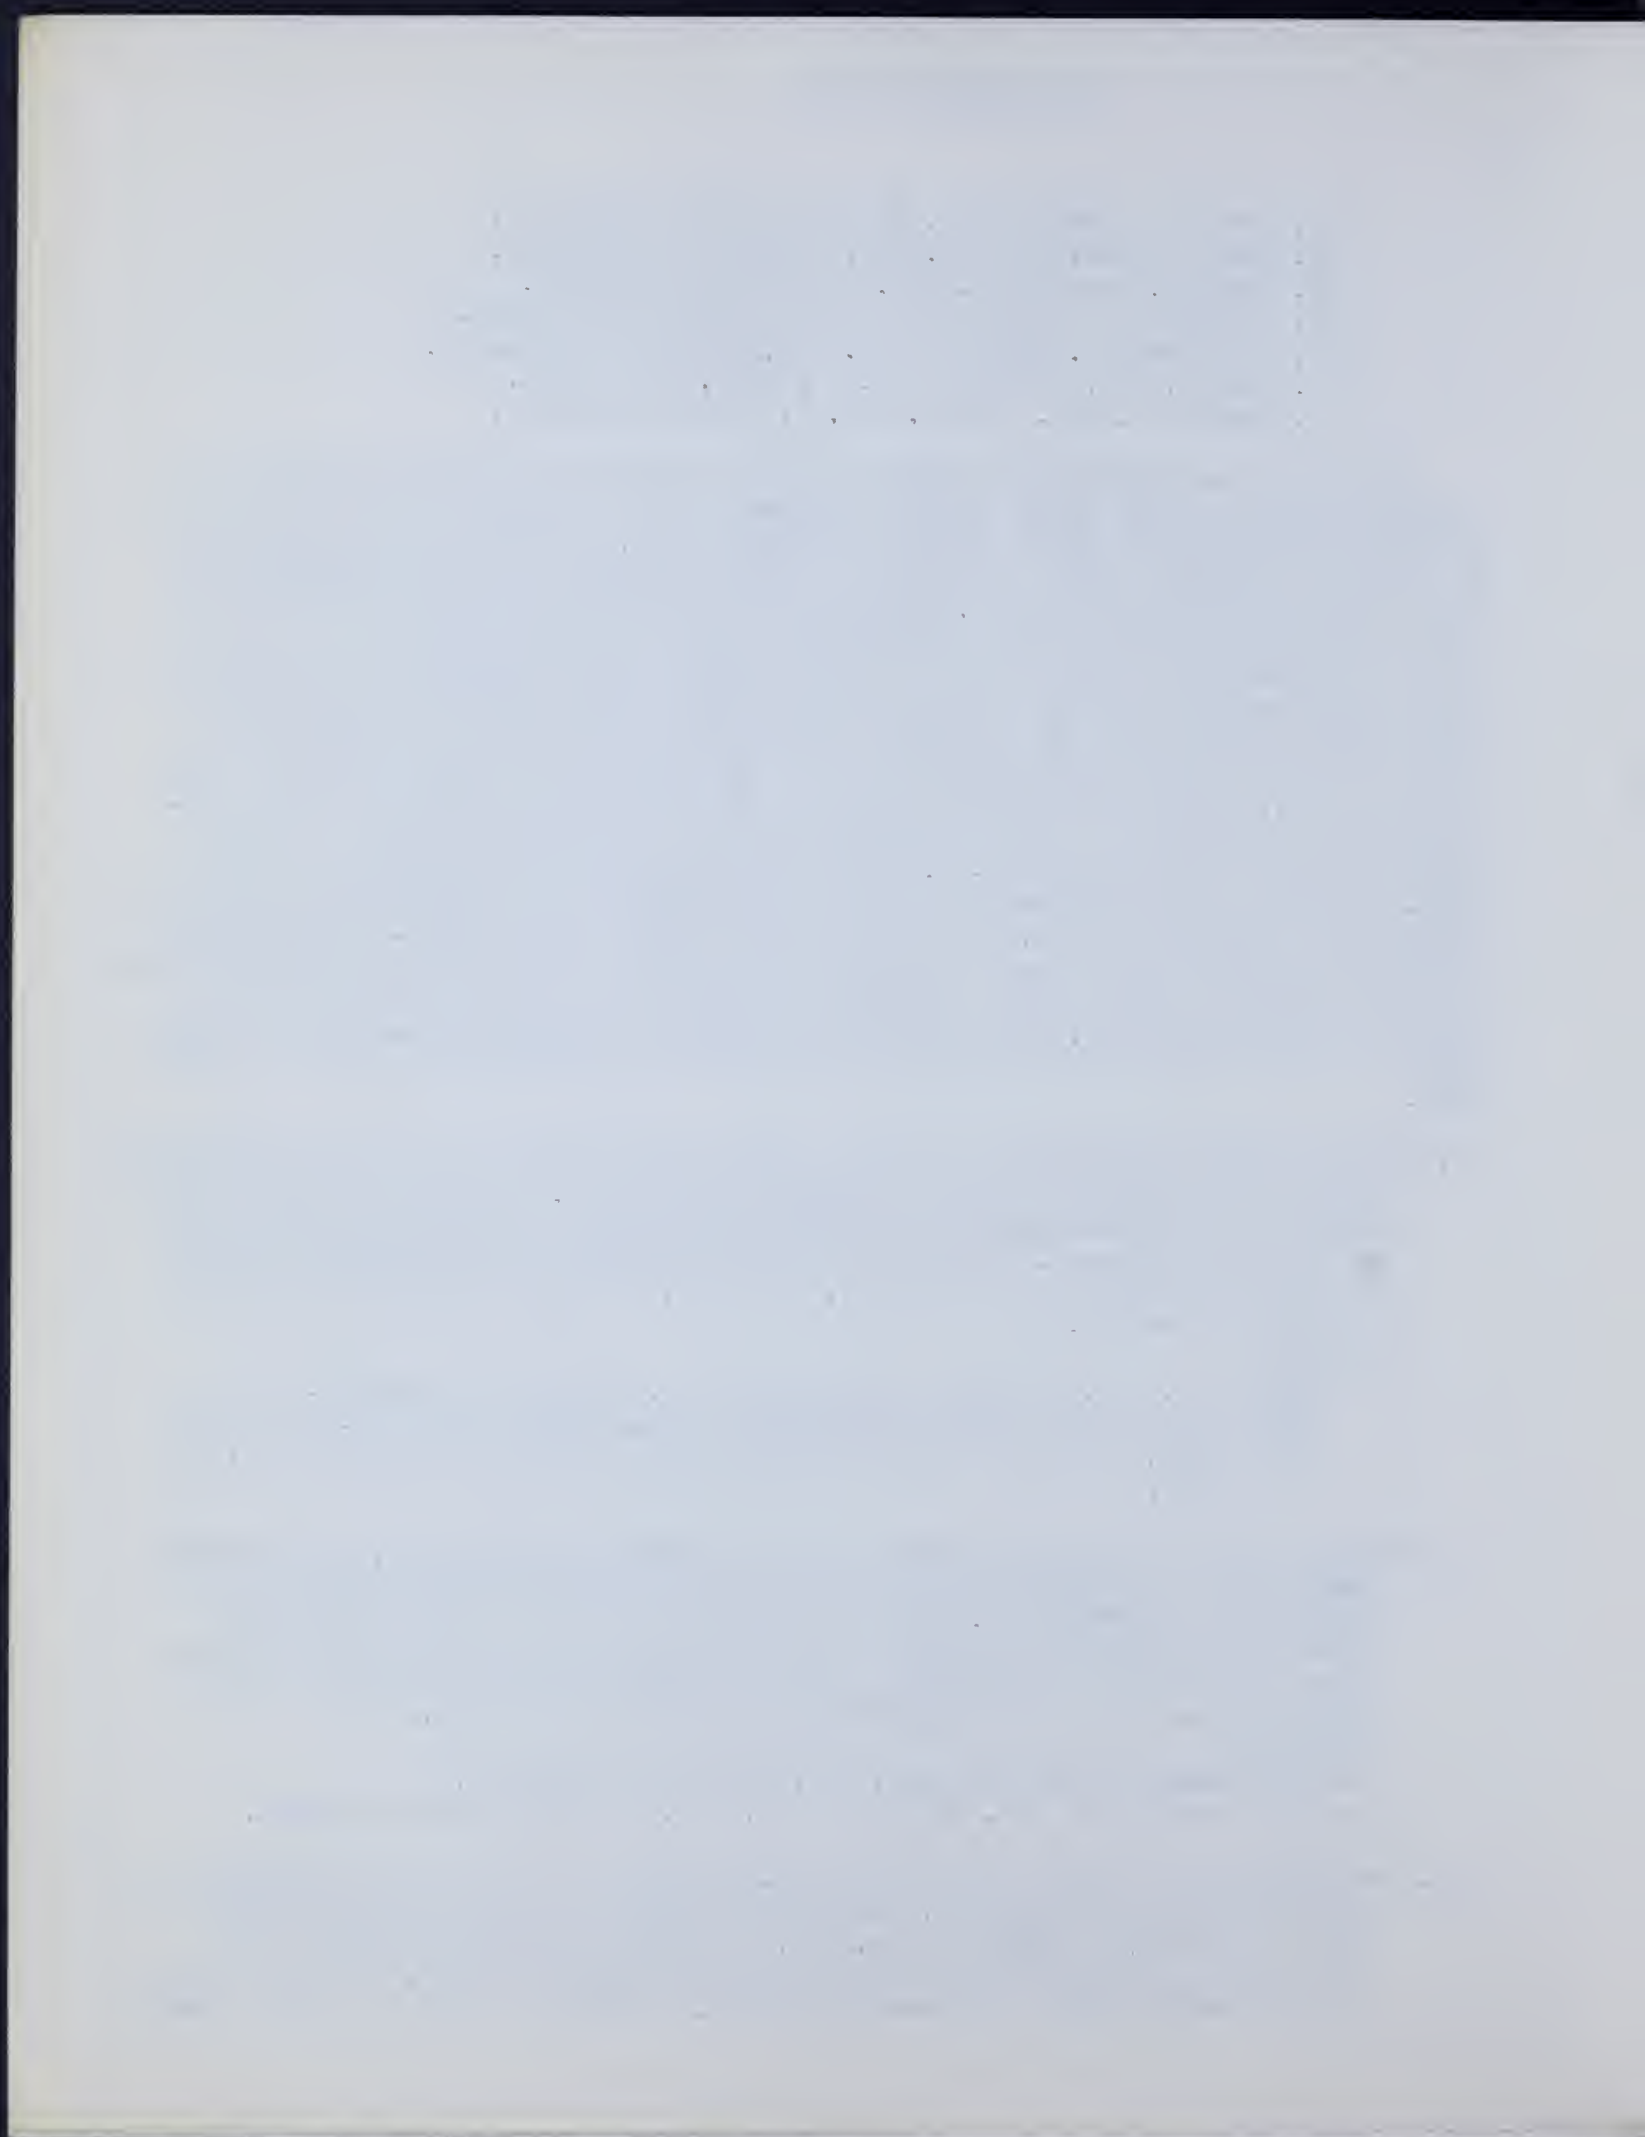

- John, bap. Sep. 16, 1701, Hackensack, mar. Rachel Van Schryven.
- Rachel, bap. Apr. 2, 1704, Hackensack, mar. Paulus Loots Oct. 30, 1724.
- David, bap. July 13, 1707, Hackensack, mar. Jacomyntie Christie Nov. 16, 1727.

- 72. Jacobus married Margrietjen DeGroot Oct. 28 (banns Oct. 1), 1726, at Schraalenburgh, both of Schraalenburgh. She was the daughter of Pieter DeGroot and Belitie Van Schaack; bap. Nov. 1, 1702, at Hackensack. Jacobus probably died there before 1735, as he is not mentioned in his father's will at that time; his share in the property was left to his two sons. Jacobus and his wife were members of the Schraalenburgh church before 1733.

Children:

- + 217. David, b. Nov. 26, bap. Dec. 3, 1727, Hackensack.
- + 218. Jacobus, b. Dec. 25, 1731, bap. Jan. 23, 1732, Schraalenburgh.

- 217. David married (1) Maria Van Buskirk Aug. 1, 1748, at Second River (Belleville), license given the same day. She was the daughter of Benjamin Van Buskirk and (39) Susanna Demarest, bap. Oct. 13, 1734, at Schraalenburgh. After her death, 1769 or later, David married (2) Elizabeth Viel. He died, record in old family Bible in possession of Mrs. Goodrich of Mt Nutley, New Jersey,

"Nov. 27, 1816, at 12 at night, aged 89 years and 1 day." His will June 25, 1805, probated Feb. 3, 1817, mentions his son Jacobus, daughters Jannetje, Margrietje, Maria and Sara, and son-in-law, John P. Durie.

Children:

- 576. Jannetje, bap. June 7, 1749, Schraalenburgh.
- 577. Margrietje, b. Aug. 20, bap. Sep. 8, 1751, Schraalenburgh.
- 578. Jacobus, b. Nov. 5 (Oct. 26), bap. Nov. 1, 1753, Schraalenburgh.
- 579. Maria, b. Feb. 29, bap. Mar. 21, 1756, Schraalenburgh.
- 580. David, b. May 29, bap. June 11, 1758, Schraalenburgh. (Was he the David Demarest employed on the Saw Mill, Bay of Quinte, in Sep., 1784?). No other record.
- 581. Sara, b. Dec. 17, 1760, bap. Jan. 4, 1761, Schraalenburgh.
- 582. Lisabeth, b. Mar. 10, bap. Mar. 29, 1767, Schraalenburgh.

218. Jacobus married Catherine Lozier Nov. 16, 1751, at Schraalenburgh. She was probably the daughter of Jacobus Lozier and Maria Durie, bap. Jan. 13, 1734, at Schraalenburgh. Jacobus Demarest lived at first at Schraalenburgh, in the old house on the Flatts, now Oradell, later known as the Van Saun house. He moved to Sugar Loaf, bought 800 acres of land near Warwick, Orange County, New York; and there many of his descendants still reside. He had a large family, all of whom grew up and married. One son at the age of eighteen migrated to Canada. Another settled in Sussex County, New Jersey. (Probably) Jacobus was a private in Col. John Hathorn's Company, Orange County Militia, 4th Regiment; also a private in Col. Ann Hawk Hays' Company, Orange County Militia, 2nd Regiment. He was a signer of the Revolutionary Pledge at Goshen (N. Y. in the Revolution, ppg. 158, 163). Jacobus and his wife are buried in Belcher's burying ground, now Locust Hill Cemetery, near Warwick. His stone reads: born Dec. 25, 1732, d. Jan. 29, 1803. Her stone reads: born Jan. 10, 1731, d. May 10, 1791. The 1731 is probably a mistake for 1734. The will of Jacobus Dec. 5, 1801, probated Feb. 25, 1803, is filed at Goshen, Orange County. (Wills Liber C. pg. 6). It mentions his sons David, Nicholas, John, Gilliam, Jacobus, daughters Margaret, Mary and granddaughter Catherine Bone (Bowen), leaves land in Warwick Vicinity by specific description to each. To Gilliam "one hundred acres of land which I won in the fifty Township of Cataraugus (?) in Upper Kennedy (Canada). His children and their descendants spelled the name Demarest. His own spelling varied.

Children:

- + 583. Jacobus, b. Aug. 9, bap. Aug. 16, 1752, Schraalenburgh.
- 584. Margrietje, b. Aug. 3, bap. Aug. 22, 1754, Schraalenburgh.
- + 585. Peter, bap. Mar. 14, 1757, Schraalenburgh.
- 586. David, bap. Mar. 14, 1757, Schraalenburgh, d. young.
- 587. Niclaes, bap. June 17, 1759, Schraalenburgh, d. young.
- + 588. David, b. July 16, bap. Aug. 2, 1761, Schraalenburgh. (It is possible that he was the David Demarest who was employed at the Government Saw Mill on the Bay of Quinte in Sept. 1784).
- 589. Niclaes, bap. Mar. 20, 1763, Schraalenburgh.
- 590. Johannes, b. Nov. 10, bap. Nov. 25, 1764, Schraalenburgh. see 1173
- 591. Maria, bap. Sep. 28, 1766, Schraalenburgh.
- + 592. Gilyam, b. Feb. 12, bap. Feb. 19, 1769, Schraalenburgh.

583. Jacobus married Anna Bowen. He was supposed to be a Loyalist; to have gone to Canada, to have lived near Bay Quinte, to have married there. Children:

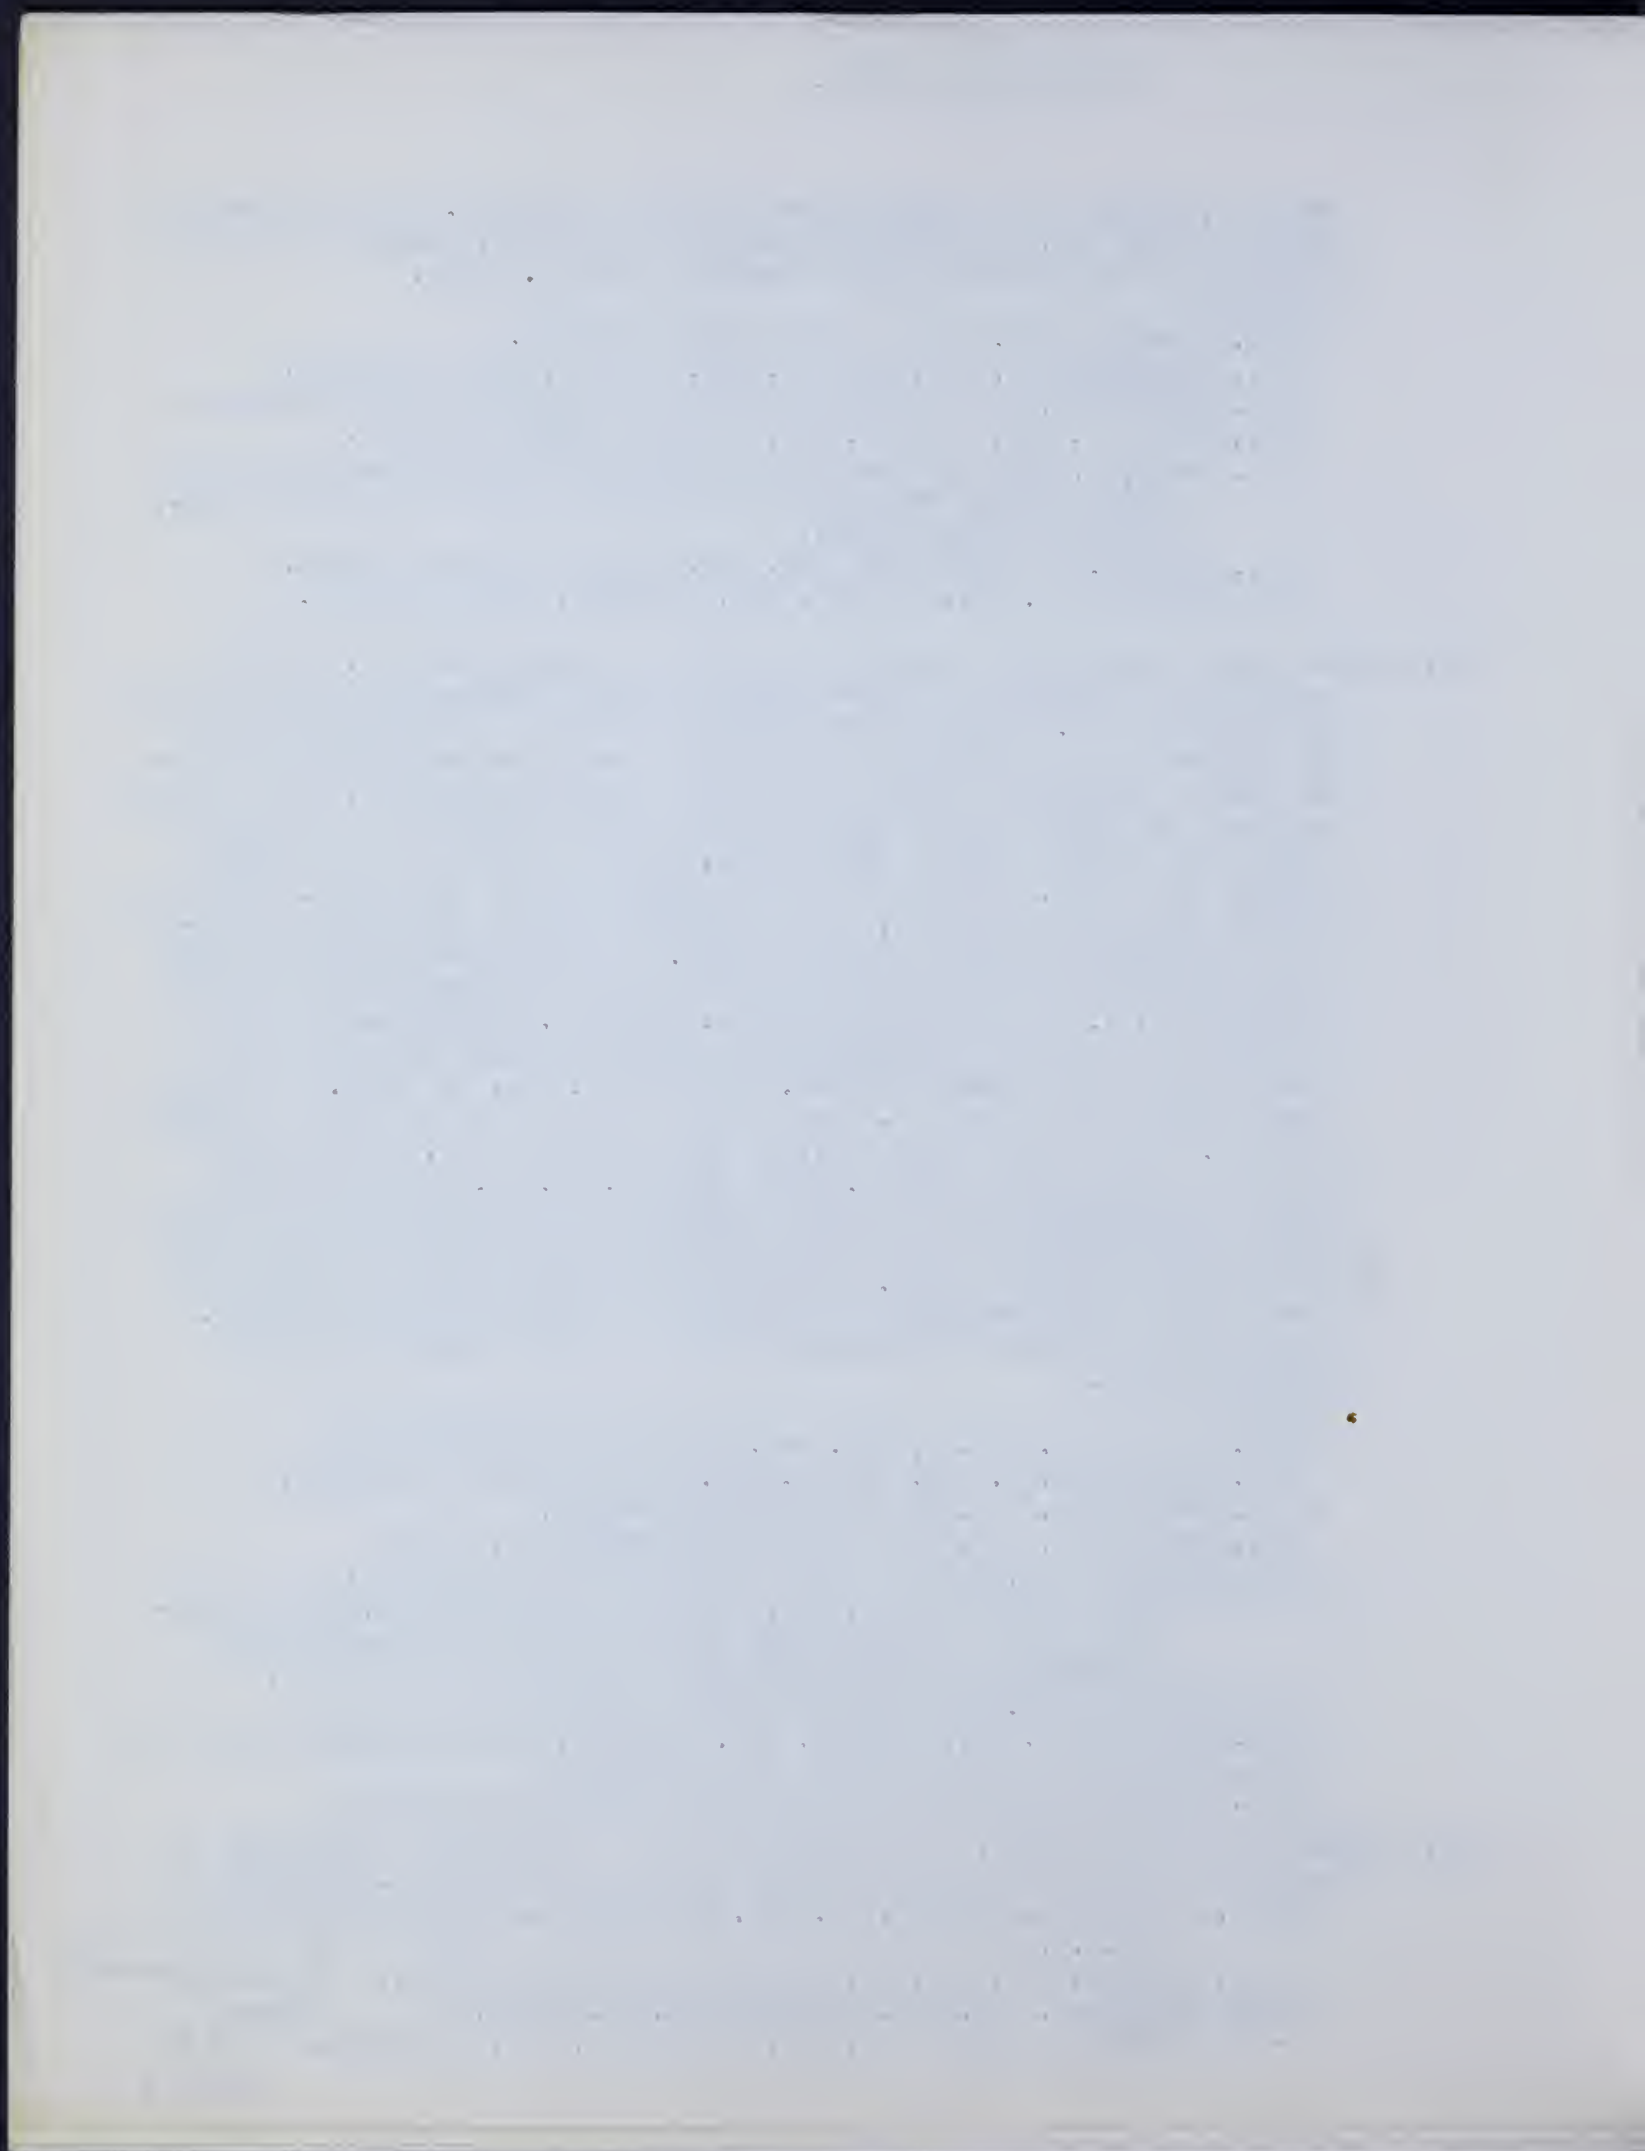

- + 1142. James, bap. Warwick. (b. Jan. 11, 1792; d. about 1840 at Warwick, N.Y.).

1143. William. (b. Jan. 14, 1795; died in War of 1812).

- + 1144. Catherine. (b. Oct. 4, 1797; mar. Wm. Bowen.)

----- (Jinney of Jenny, bap. Mar. 2, 1794; d. Mar. 10, 1794).

585. Peter married Hannah Demarest. He was a Loyalist and died in prison at Newburg, Apr. 29, 1777, aet. 20. He is buried in burying ground, Warwick. Revolutionary War records, Albany, N.Y.: "At a General Court Martial held Feb., 1777, Peter Demorest of Captain Bartholf's Company of Col. Hathorn's Regiment of Orange County Militia, was charged with refusing to march with the militia when duly warned thereof and deserted to the enemy: fined L 20."

Children:

1145. Catherine.

588. David married (554) Margaret Demarest

592. Gilyam (Guillaume). when a boy of 10 or 12, during the Revolution, carried provisions to the British camp near his father's home in Orange County, N.Y., The family was loyalist and lost the land they had there. With his father he went to Dutchess County during the war. With three older brothers, or certainly with his brother David, he went in 1790, at the age of 21, to Canada, crossing Lake Ontario in a small sailing vessel with a number of Loyalists. He founded a settlement bearing still the name Demorestville. He was Major, 3rd Battalion, Prince Edward Militia, War of 1812; was called home by the sudden death of his wife, 1813, leaving an infant child with several other children. He was connected with the Commissary Department of the Royal Force. He died Dec. 10, 1848, at the home of his daughter, Prince Edward Co., a few miles from Demorestville. This was, in 1915, at the start of the World War, a small and not very prosperous village. There was, however, a large enlistment from the village and its vicinity and an extraordinary proportion of deaths and disabilities from the service overseas. He and his descendants spelled the name Demorest. Gilyam Demorest married (1) Jane Davis of Adolphustown, Canada, 1793. She died April 23, 1813. He married (2) Hannah Burdette, Sept. 25, 1815; she was seventh in descent from Stephen Burdette, Rear Admiral of the fleet of France, belonging to the Protestant Alliance opposed to the Catholic League. All the children were born at Demorestville, Prince Edward Co., Ontario.

Children (by first wife):

+ 1176. Catherine, b. Nov. 20, 1794.

+ 1177. Thomas, b. Mar. 7, 1798.

+ 1178. James, b. Dec. 24, 1800.

+ 1179. Elizabeth, b. Sep. 15, 1804(5).

+ 1180. Janet, b. Apr. 23, 1813.

(by second wife)

+ 1181. David Lozier, b. July 12, 1814.

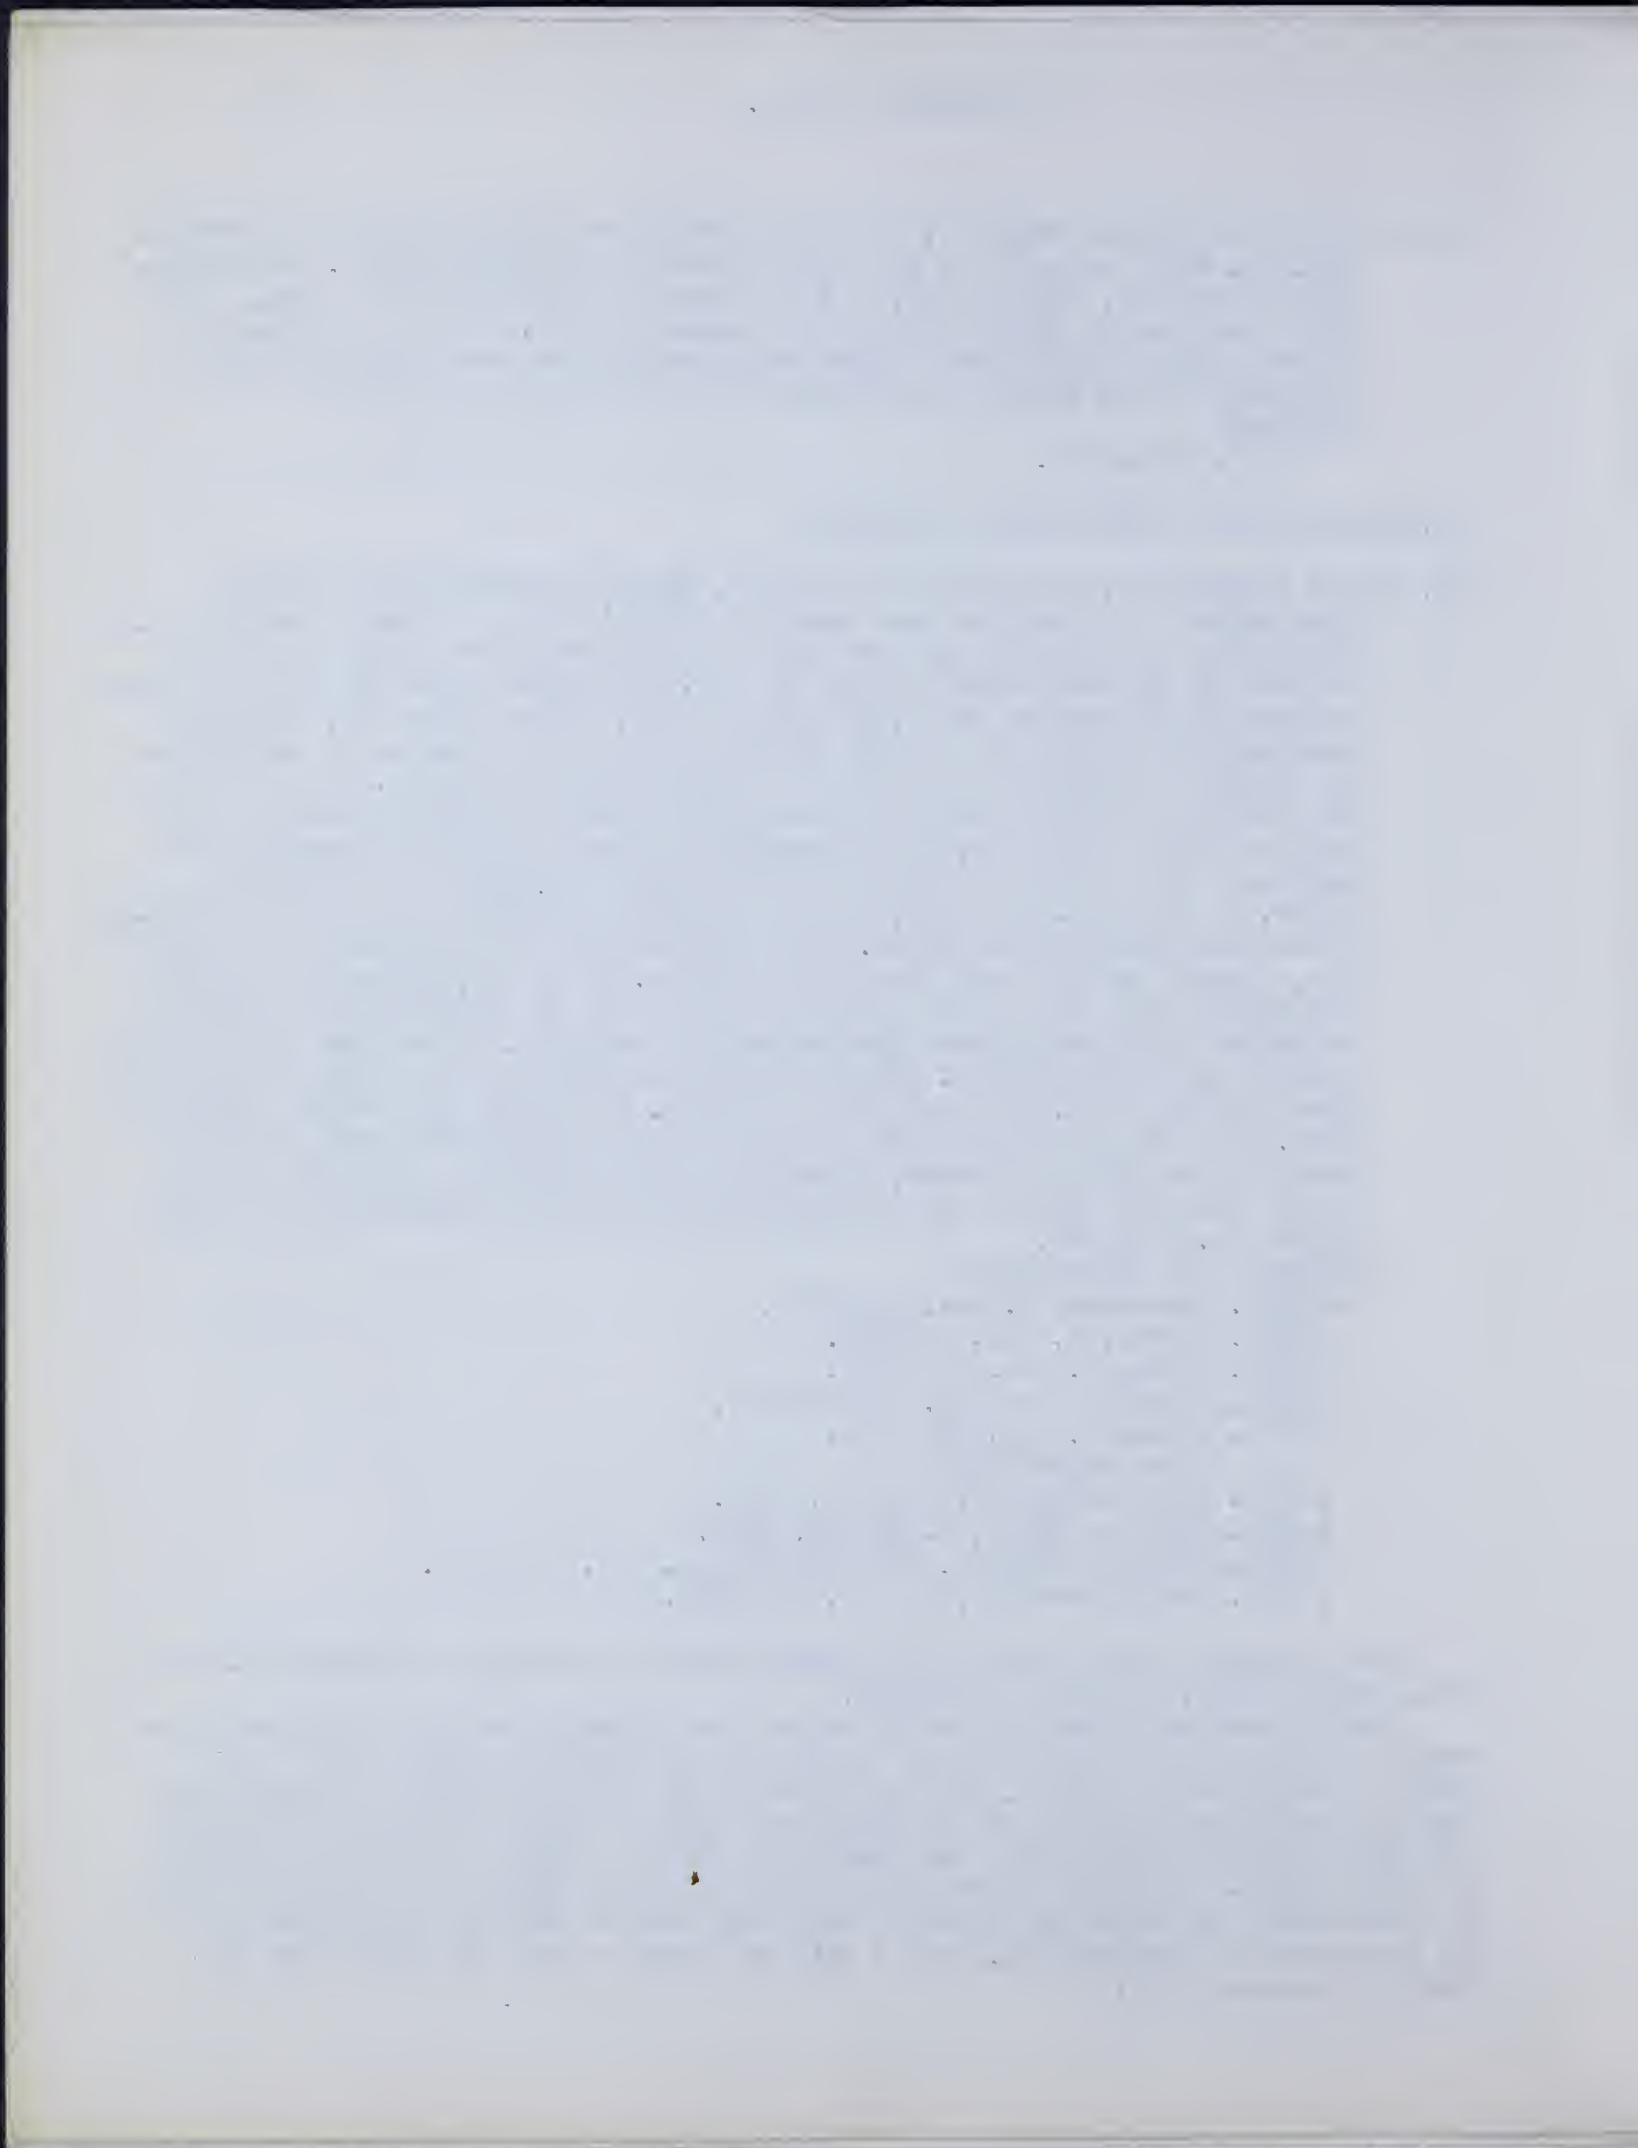

+ 1182. Mary Ann Myers, b. May 18, 1816.

+ 1183. Margaret Earl, b. May 23, 1819, d. Sep. 27, 1822.

+ 1184. Rachel Freeland, b. Dec. 21, 1821.

From "Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte" published by Ralph & Clark, Ltd., Toronto, Canada, 1906. The Demorest Family.

One of their sons (sons of Jacob Demorest and Trientje Lozier), Guillaume Demorest, born Feb. 16, 1769, in Orange County, lived in Dutchess County till 1790, whence he emigrated to Canada. He came by way of the Mohawk Valley and crossed the lake in a small sailing craft to Adolphustown, where he taught school for two years and where, in 1793, he married Jane Davis, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Davis of Adolphustown. The newly wedded couple moved to Prince Edward County in the spring of 1794, having purchased the previous year from the Government, lots 38 and 39, 1st concession of Sophiasburgh. Here a village sprang up and was named after its founder, Demorestville.

Here our pioneer in due course built a grist mill, a saw mill, a linseed oil mill and a church. Although his family--thoroughly indoctrinated in the Presbyterian faith by a long line of Huguenot ancestors--still held by the church for which they had given up home and fortune, Guillaume Demorest presented the church and lot in which it stood to the Methodists, who were then, as now (1906), numerically the strongest body in Sophiasburgh. Later on the pioneer was admitted with that body, and for many years before his death was one of the ablest local preachers in Prince Edward County. He received a magistrate's commission, and Squire Demorest was in the beginning of the last century the leading man in the most progressive settlement on the Bay of Quinte. A detailed story of his life would be the history of the early settlement of Sophiasburgh.

His first wife, Elizabeth (Jane) Davis, bore him five children. The oldest of these was Catherine, born 1794, who married an educated young Englishman of good family--Erastus Howard--a union that, blending as it did the best blood of England and France, gave a long list of distinguished names to the learned profession in Canada. This family not only furnished to Methodism a fine church edifice but many clergymen as well. Nor has Methodism alone drawn from this rich stock of talent. The English Church, the Bar of two provinces, the Bench of the State of Iowa (Judge Thomas Giverson), the medical and teaching professions have all been enriched by the broad culture and tolerant spirit of many descendants of the trug-loving old Huguenot. After the death of his first wife, in 1813, Guillaume Demarest married Hannah Burdette, of Kingston, a lady also of noble Huguenot descent. Our Pioneer died at Demorestville in 1849.

1142. James, married Mary Empey. He was baptized, Warwick, N.Y., 1840, just before his death. Children:

- +1926. Hannah.
- +1927. Catherine (b. 1837).

1181. David Lozier after early life at Demorestville, Canada, attended Cazenovia Seminary, New York State. He taught school for some years. He became much interested in his Demarest ancestry, and in 1840 visited Bergen Co., New Jersey, was welcomed there by () Peter P. Demarest, and was driven by (1367) Daniel P. Demarest to the Demarest settlement, Adams Co., Pennsylvania. After final teaching at Demorestville: "I pioneered into the back woods of Canada, hewing out a home, and for thirty years my efforts (family researches) lay almost forgotten, sacredly preserved." Later in life he resumed the study; he compiled considerable and valuable record. His pioneer home was in Ontario; he built mills there, forty miles west of London. Scotch people settled on his land, a settlement such as told in Ralph Connor's The Doctor. In time it received the name Harrington. At his marriage he built a small house; later, a large one on a hill top with tower for the far view. He was postmaster for 18 years and "host to the entire country side for ~~20 miles away, and brass band from Scotland~~ annual festivals; recitations, music, Scotch bag pipes from Woodstock 20 miles away, brass band from Stratford 10 miles distant, all followed by a sumptuous repast at which 150 sat at one table. Everything furnished by my husband and prepared by my sister and myself." He was very religious, family worship every evening, gave land and stone for church and school, ambitious for education of his children. For their sake he removed in 1866 to Aurora, Ill. A son became a minister; several grandsons became ministers; a daughter became a missionary to Africa; he retired from business in 1884; in 1892 he and his wife made their home with their daughter, Mrs. Hannah Demorest Martin at Aurora. David Lozier Demorest married Elizabeth Leach (b. Feb. 22, 1818, Wolcottville, Conn., d. 1900), June 21, 1845. He died May 24, 1900.

JANET DEMOREST NOXON.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS YOUNG TO-DAY

Many Generations Pay Homage to Mrs. Janet Demorest Noxon.

Gracious and charming in her sweet and inimitable manner, Mrs. Janet Demorest Noxon, is to day celebrating her one hundredth birthday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Belle Bradner, with whom she lives.

Gathered about her are her dear ones from near and far, who are enjoying the charm of this rare woman's personality.

Among the family present are: Mrs. J. D. Lambert of Northport, Canada, a daughter who is 79 years old and her daughter Mrs. John Foster from the same place. Also, Mr.

N. Y., and daughter, Miss Cecil Noxon from Cleveland, Ohio. Also Mrs. Gertrude Frazer another daughter from Picton, Ont., and a great grand daughter Miss Janet Noxon from Winona, Ont. Besides her grand daughters the children of Mrs. Belle Bradner and their husbands and children: Janet, wife of Mr. Fred Stevens and children Emily and Helen of Warwick; George wife of Mr. Frank Francher and daughter Isabelle of Middletown; Gertrude wife of Mr. Ralph Pitt and children Janet and Bradner of Lynbrook, N. J. Mr. James Noxon, son of Mr. George Noxon who is attending Warwick High School; Mrs. Michael Rightmyer of Demorestville, Ont., a niece by marriage.

Mrs. Noxon, her self is a rare type. She has reached the century mark of life with ease. Her senses all her faculties and barring a little deafness is keener and brighter and more mentally alert, than many in their forties. She is evidently a woman who has loved life with all the genuineness and depth of her nature, imparting to others her joy of existence. Few of us I am sure will be able, if ever we reach the century milestone, to live in the heart of life so fully as this charming woman does. She is now, as always, busy from morning till night doing whatever she wishes to help about her daughters home. She takes keen pleasure in knitting silk rugs mornings, holders afternoons and should you run in the evening for a merry chat you would find those nimble fingers making wash cloths, and proud indeed you would be if you were presented with any of these trophies, from fingers one hundred years old.

Many handsome and delightful gifts of love and esteem have been showered on Mrs. Noxon. Among the happy remembrances was one hundred white carnations sent by friends from Avoca, N. Y., where Mr. and Mrs. Noxon, lived a few years prior to his death, and where their son George makes his home. Telegrams, flowers and dainties keep coming in to help to add to the joys of this eventful occasion.

Jane Demorest Noxon, born April 23, 1813, at Demorestville, Ontario, Canada, was a daughter of William Demorest born February 12, 1789, Warwick, N. Y., and Janet Davis, married at Demorestville, Canada, emigrated when a boy of 17. In 1798 taught school in Canada and founded the town of Demorestville Canada.

Granddaughter of Jacobus Demorest, born January 23, 1782 married Trynie Loxler. A soldier in the Revolutionary War. Lived on the Ridge near Warner. Known as the f. Sanford? was recently sold to Mr. Hobbs, of New York.

Both buried in the Belcher Cemetery. Great granddaughter of Jacobus Demorest born May 30, 1765, married Margrietie DeGroot lived at Hackensack, N. J.

Great great granddaughter of David Demorest born in New York 1875. Married Sara Berthoff daughter of the Rev. William Berthoff. Lived at Hackensack, N. J.

Great great great granddaughter of David Demorest born in France 1652 married Rachel Cresson of New York.

Great, great, great great grand daughter of the French Huguenot

David des Marest, born 1620 Beauchamp, Piccardy, France. Married Marie Shier, July 24, 1643 at Middleburg. Emigrated to America in the ship "Spotted Cow," April 16, 1668 and was one of the first Mayors of Harlem, N. Y.

...many apothorisms and dots. Mr. Ireland has been interviewing the big men of state and nation, who have something to say that is worth while.
Some of the sharp things said by Lieutenant Governor Glynn, things which have been quoted frequen-ly since the interview was printed, are:
"Right here in this state the time has come when any party which plays politics instead of settling down to conduct the people's business might as well put up its shutters and move out.
The public has stood just about as much as it's going to stand in the way of having its affairs run in the interest of political bosses and financial bosses. It's going to have them run in its own interest.
"Political problems in a Democratic community like ours are in many respects more complicated than those which confront governments of a less advanced type and populations of a less varied composition, but there are certain broad, guiding principles which spell safety and success to any administration which derives its powers di-

115. Peter, mar. Jannetje VanderLinde, Sep. 29, 1737, at Schraalenburgh, both of Hackensack. She was the daughter of Peter VanderLinde and Geesie Westervelt, bap. May 20, 1717, at Hackensack. Her twin sister Feytie married Peter's cousin (110) Jacobus Demarest. The family lived probably in the Ramapo Valley or near Monroe or Cornwall, New York. At Goshen, Orange County, June, 1755, (pencilled note, 1775) the following Demerests, the name of each so spelled, all over 21 years of age, signed the Pledge; Samuel, Benjamin, David, Jacob, Peter. The names correspond. One of the brothers John had gone to New York to live it is supposed.

Children:

- 326. Benjamin, bap. Apr. 15, 1739, Schraalenburgh.

328. David, if correctly identified, married Phoebe Austin, about 1770. She is identified as the daughter of Jonathan Austin Jr. and Charity Odell of Dutchess County, N.Y., Frederickstown of the Philipse Patent. Record of her birth is not found, but she is quite surely of this family, since names of her children correspond so largely, with the names of Jonathan Austin's children, there also being a Phoebe in the next generation, presumably named for Phoebe, the wife of David Demarest. Jonathan Austin Jr. had moved to Dutchess Co. from Rye, Westchester Co. before the Revolutionary War. He died before 1777, his wife Charity Odell surviving him many years. Their children were: Jonathan, mar. Sarah Black; Smith, mar. Martha Brewer; Job; Robert, mar. Elizabeth Lane; Isaac, mar. Ann Curry; Anna, mar. Stebbins Howe; Rebecca; probably Phoebe, mar. David Demarest. David Demarest apparently lived near Cornwall, went to Dutchess Co., lived there, at Frederickstown, the early years of his married life, until 1790. U.S. Census of that year records him as head of a family, 1 male over 16, 3 males under 16, 3 females. About that year, it must have been, he moved with his family to Greene Co., to Hunter in the Catskill Mountains, living there probably until his death, about 1844. Some one writes: "What sent them to such a barren locality--with mountains on each side and only a small stream, the Beaver-Bushkill running through a small opening along whose bank it was almost impossible to drive a team--we are unable to tell, but possible they were in sympathy with the English in the Revolutionary War." His children scattered. Moses went to Central New York, adopted the name Dimorier, his descendants continuing it. Smith went to Canada, aged about 16, spelled his name Demorest, his descendants there retaining it so.

Children:

- 733. Charles.
- + 734. Smith, b. Sep. 1 (Oct. 12), 1774 (d. July 25, 1854).
- 735. Moses (b. 1682; d. 1873).
- 736. Ada.
- 737. Mina (Jemima).

- 738. Challie (Charlotte).
- 739. Polly (Mary).
- 740. Jobe Austin, b. Nov. 12, 1789 (d. Mar. 19, 1874).
- 741. Silas.
- 742. Jonathan.

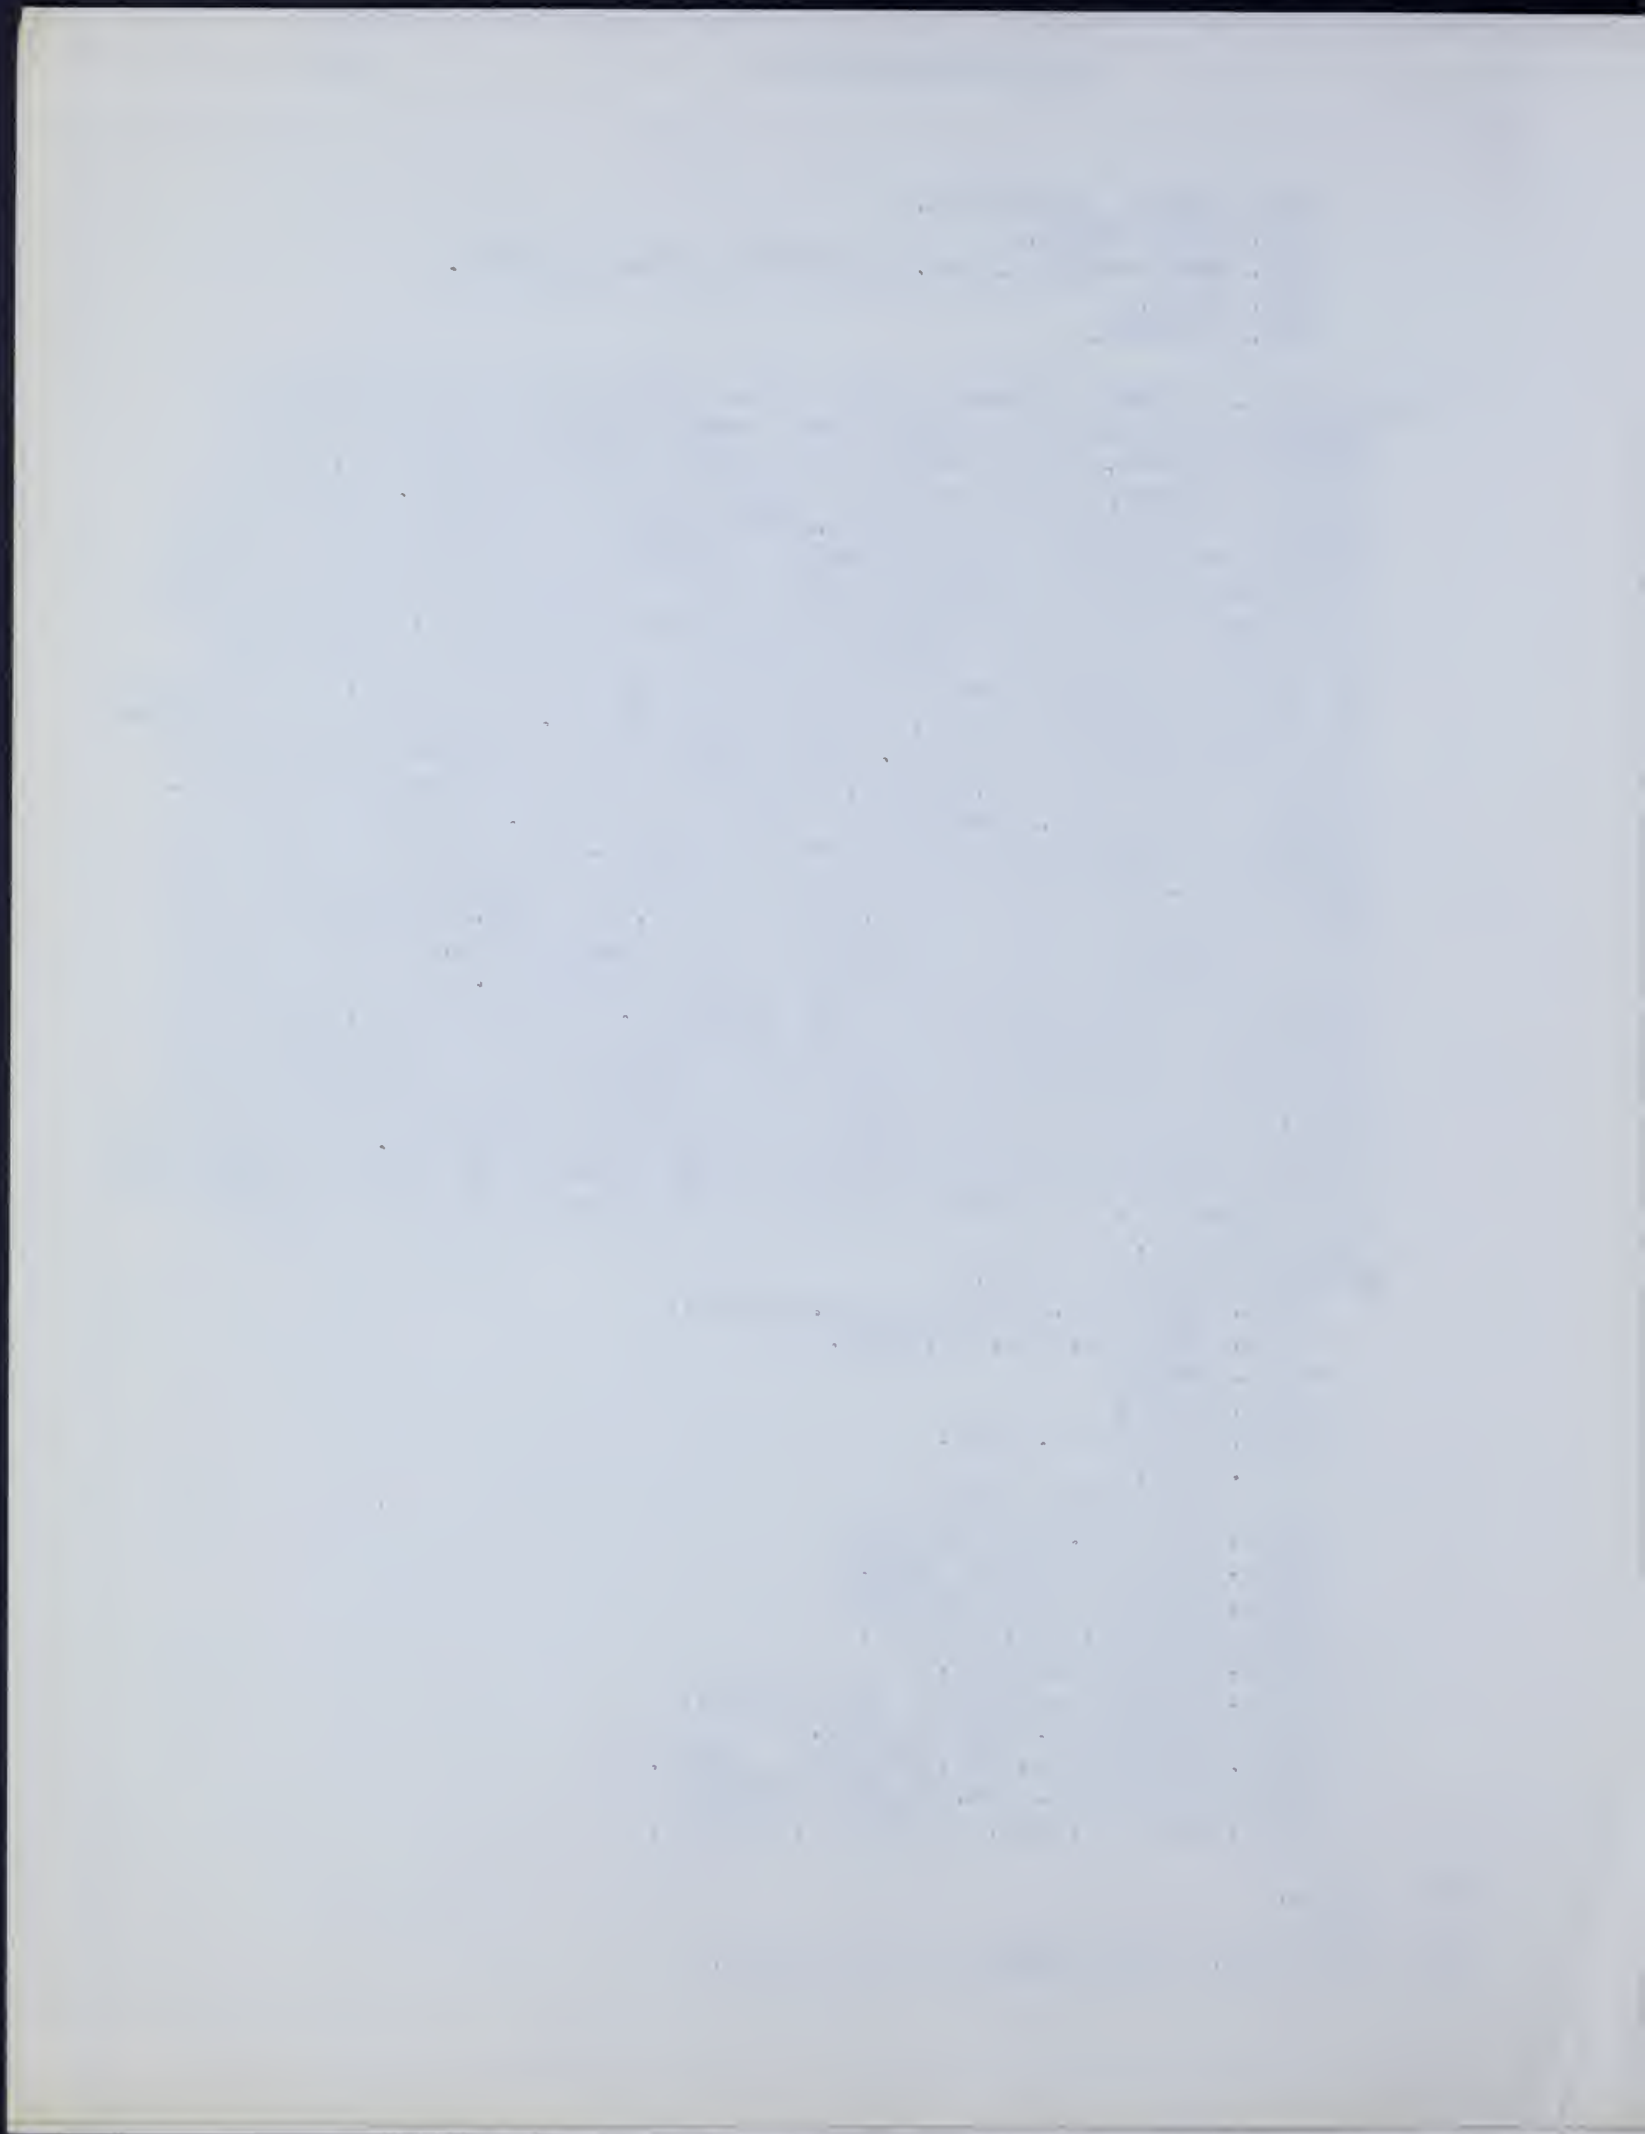

734. Smith, mar. 1st Abbie Calverly about 1798. At 16 years of age he joined a company of relatives and friends who, about 1798, left New York State to settle in Canada. In the party was his cousin Guillaume Demarest, son of Jacobus Demarest, whose home was at Sugar Loaf, near Warwick. Also in the party were Calverlys from Newburgh. Smith Demaree, whose home was at Hunter, probably married Abbie Calverly before the family's leaving Newburgh, about 1798. They located at Frontenac, later called Kingston. The men were employed in the construction of government works, notably Fort Henry. From Frontenac they moved up the Bay of Quinte to the mouth of the Myers or Moira River and again six miles up the river to the present site of Foxboro. At that time the country was dense forest. Indians were numerous. On an island in the river the settlers buried their dead. Smith Demaree (as he spelled his name) was among the first settlers, leader, a powerful man in physique and in spirit. He built a log cabin. Five daughters were born to him. His first child, a daughter, had been born and had died in Kingston. His wife, Abbie Calverly, died in 1812. In the following year he married 2nd Jane Thompson, Aug. 19, 1813. She was born Aug. 8, 1794. She died Apr. 28, 1864. His affairs prospered and he built what was considered a fine ~~house~~ home. The village was named Smithville; later it received the name of Foxboro. Nine more children were born to him, five sons and four daughters. He died July 25, 1854; he is buried near the village, and the stone at his grave can be seen. He left a great many grandchildren and great-grandchildren in Canada and widely elsewhere. During the last three years of his life his name, which had always been written Demaree or Demeree, appears in land deeds as Demarest. His daughter, Letisha, left definite direction that on the stone at her grave the name should be Demeree. Ref. Mary Miller, Foxboro, Ontario, granddaughter of Letisha Demeree Snider.
